HATS OFF DEPT.

To the editor of the Review, who after a frantic appeal, volunteered to come to the rescue of a worthy civic project. The ticket committee of the Swimming Pool Carnival ran into difficulties and Maxie agreed to get some 50,000 of the ducats run off in three days. This of course in addition to writing reams of publicity.

This boy is good! We need more of this kind of thinking.

Which brings to mind the latest meeting of the L. G. Columnists Local No. 1954.

With our ranks ever increasing, our power also has been growing. Frankly, our Union which is dedicated to the reporting of local happenings has become quite alarmed by the outbursts of the Editor and his "Dimmer View." We've been able to bounce him around a bit but he still manages to crowd himself on to the front page.

This boy had better be careful. Columnists are easier to come by these days.

Seriously, there should be no Ohs and Ahs of surprise locally at least, over the developing scandal about liquor licenses. One needs only to read the Goodwin editorials that have been appearing for the past six months in the Review to know that the Editor has been lambasting the daylight hours of the rottenness existing in the liquor licensing. We happen to know also that this same Editor has been giving the needle, but good, to our legislators to do something about it.

So Mr. Goodwin, we of L.G.C.U. Local 1954 say, "More power to you" and (this hurts) in case of extreme emergency you have our permission to relegate

John Gibson to Appear on TV, Radio

John B. Gibson, candidate for the Assembly in the 77th District, will be one of the speakers to appear on KCBQ Tuesday at 8 p.m. and on television KXTV Channel 6 at 4:30 Sunday, May 2, as a guest of the League of Women Voters of San Diego which is sponsoring a series of meetings for the candidates who will appear on the June primary ballot.

The League, a non-partisan organization, offers the opportunity to all candidates for each office to speak on the same question for an allotted period of time.

Also on the program are Sheridan Hegland, Ed Bule, and Barbara Lang Hayes, all candidates with John B. Gibson for the Assembly.

Miss Carol Alderson and Mrs. Irving Alexander, members of the League, will present the questions and time the candidates.

Varied Programs Set for Public Schools Week

To help celebrate the thirty-fifth year in which Public Schools Week has been sponsored by the Masonic Order of California, schools throughout the Lemon Grove District will open their doors next week to all patrons with a variety of programs and demonstrations.

At the junior high school, Ben I. Schei, principal, issued an invitation to all to visit the classrooms anytime during the week from 8:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. Besides these visits, parents and other interested people may attend one or all of the special assembly programs being given during the week in the new auditorium. On Tuesday morning, 9:30, an old-fashioned spelling bee with competing seventh and eighth graders is offered. The school band and orchestra, under the direction of Paul Cheatham, will be featured at assemblies on Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. The girls' glee club, double trio, and boys' double quartet will present a varied program on Friday at the same time.

Thursday evening the Lemon Grove School P-TA will meet in the auditorium on School Lane. This program is scheduled for a night event rather than the traditional open house. As an added attraction, all patrons are invited to attend the regularly scheduled sixth grade dancing classes on Monday evening, 7:30 to 8:30, in the auditorium.

In elementary schools throughout the district a uniform program is offered with a few variations continued on page 10

Representative Utt to Tell of Congress Assassination Try

U. S. Representative James Utt will be guest of honor Thursday night, April 22 at the Lions Club weekly meeting to be held at Michael's and members of other Lemon Grove clubs have been invited to attend.

The congressman, in a swing around his district, will head up a ladies' night program to which members of other local service clubs have been invited. Max Goodwin, publisher of the Review, will be in charge of the program.

Representative Utt has turned his attention to Lemon Grove more than once in the past several months. Late last year he offered the use of his good offices to obtain a larger post office for Lemon Grove if the citizenry thought such was necessary. In the meanwhile, negotiations for a new building for the post office was undertaken by the district post inspector.

The congressman, an ingratiating person, has a long record of friendships established by southland residents visiting him in Washington.

Utt's talk at the Lions Club will be informal and part of it will be devoted to the shooting affair earlier this year in Congress. Representative Utt who was on the floor at the time of the shooting said that he was narrowly missed by one of the bullets.

A question and answer period will follow his discussion.

City Official to Speak at Grove Men's Club

Orin K. Cope, assistant to the city manager of the city of San Diego, will be guest speaker Friday at the Lemon Grove Men's Club, according to George Castee, club chairman.

Mr. Cope will describe some of the advantages and disadvantages in annexation.

CORRECTION.

Two errors appeared in the cutlines of the Masonic Club's breakfast picture on page 1 of this newspaper last week.

Properly identified, they are Tom Parsons and William Rife.

The error was inadvertent plus the fact that the picture was lousy it totaled up to some pretty bad news.

Tenth Annual Appliance Show Opens Friday

A San Diego made product, a radio pillow, will be one of the features at the admission free Tenth Annual Spring Fair of Modern Home Ideas which opens Friday at the Electric Building in Balboa Park.

The pillow allows radio listening thru a connection in a nearby radio and a speaker in the pillow. Other features will be the largest collection of color television receivers ever assembled under one roof and all of the new laundry, freezing, refrigerating, ironing, and other types of appliances women dream of will be on display.

More than 150,000 persons are expected to visit the fair this year. All the 1954-55 lines of the nation's major manufacturers of ranges, refrigerators, televisions will be on display.

Doll Exhibits to Be Hospital Drive Feature

Two very fine exhibits will be featured at the Country Fair on Saturday, May 1, at Grossmont High School, sponsored by the Grossmont Hospital Auxiliary.

One will be the lovely doll exhibit by Mrs. Mearle Pierce, of Lemon Grove, and the other is a quilt display gathered from all over the community and featuring new and old quilts, according to Mrs. H. W. Valentine of La Mesa.

Thomas Garage Expands Operations

An expansion of business operations has been announced by Jim Thomas of the Thomas Garage at 7579 Broadway.

The new metal custom body department has been added with Harold Miller, a body and paint specialist, in charge of the department.

At the same time Thomas announced that the garage would be open seven days a week and 24-hour-a-day service would now be available.

Daylight Time Starts Sunday

Daylight saving time starts in Lemon Grove Sunday. Simplest way to get in line with the new time is to move the clock ahead one hour at bedtime Saturday. Law says that daylight time starts the last Sunday (12:01 a.m.) in April and Standard time returns on the last Sunday in September.

Man Held in Night-Mare Shooting

The Sheriff's department said today that a murder complaint probably would be lodged against James P. Twomey, 47, of 8170 Lincoln Ave. in Lemon Grove in the shooting of his wife, Margaret, 46. Twomey is reported to have shot her as she slept Tuesday at 1:04 a.m. She died at the La Mesa hospital at 2:15.

Twomey claims the shooting occurred during a nightmare.

This column lays no claim to literary merit—it is just a running commentary on local and outside happenings that may be of interest. It is not our aim to be rigidly conventional any more than the Review is conventional—A little touch of satire now and then—an occasional squib that we pick up in our daily contacts that may evoke a smile and one man's viewpoint, perhaps not always acceptable.

Even the "Greatest Story Ever Told" is controversial—e.g. Proverbs 18-22. "Whosoever findeth a wife findeth a good thing" and there is that oft quoted for and against "Wine at the marriage feast."

We enjoy reading the syndicated columnist as well as the radio commentators of all breeds—we may not agree with them, but getting the other fellow's viewpoint is an education. Sometimes an opposing thought is nearer the heart of the matter.

Commentators like trailer courts are a very potent part of American life and are here to stay.

We feel the country as of now is suffering from too much McCarthyism but on the other hand the headline hunting Senator is doing a real service much as we dislike his ruthless methods. He is combating 20 years of indifference to the alarming Communist growth in this country. It can not be remedied overnight.

Work Starts on Grossmont Hospital

The Grossmont Hospital ground breaking ceremonies will be held Tuesday, April 27, according to the board of directors who earlier this week signed a contract with Trepte Construction Co. for $1,205,000 for the project.

Work has already been started clearing the area which is north and east of La Mesa. Lay-out of location will get under way immediately.

Burton Jones, one of the board members, said that more than one half million dollars has been acquired from the Federal Government and a similar amount from the State.

At the ground breaking Rev. Dan Apra will take part and many civic dignitaries will assist with the ceremonies.

The public is invited.

The hospital is scheduled to open June, 1955.

At the board meeting Jones' resignation was accepted since he recently moved his residence outside of the Grossmont Hospital District.

Replacing him will be Ralph Peterson, manager of Montgomery-Ward in San Diego. Peterson is a resident of Grossmont.

Over My Shoulder

By A. F. "TONY" SONKA

Mrs. Roxey F. Cronquist, who is as interested as I in the history of Lemon Grove loaned me a copy of the Lemon Grove News dated April 15, 1948, in which a lengthy historical article appeared.

Because it tells the history more completely than I could I am going to use it in a series.

This is the first installment.

A complete history of Lemon Grove, dating back to 1869, was read before the Forward Club at its meeting last Friday by Mrs. Albert Cronquist, the author.

Club members were enthusiastic in their praise of the history, which was backed up by a large amount of research work into authentic data.

"And Mrs. Cronquist, who did the work, regards herself as a relative newcomer in Lemon Grove. The remarkable document she produced is given here in full.

"It is, indeed, an honor, that I was requested to give a talk on the history of Lemon Grove. I hope that I can live up to the expectations, and do justice to our nice home town. To illustrate exactly what I mean, I will tell you of a little incident that happened the other day:

"It was at another gathering of ladies, and Mrs. Randolph Morse remarked to one of the other ladies, (a little proudly, I thought, 'Mrs. Cronquist is going to give a talk on the history of Lemon Grove for the Forward Club.'"

"The lady, thus addressed, had not understood the name 'Who?' she inquired.

"Why, Mrs. Cronquist,' Mrs. Morse repeated, taking my arm. 'The lady thus informed was surprised, amazed. She laughed. 'What in the world do you know' continued on page 10

Parcels to be sold will be open for inspection on April 18, 21 and 23. First parcel is at 7134 North Ave., a one bedroom frame house.

Number two is at the same address and is a frame cabin, attached car port, a wash house and miscellaneous sheds, lath house, fencing, etc. Parcel three is at 6908 Radio Road is a two bedroom frame house. Number four is at 6912 Radio Road, a three bedroom frame house with a detached double garage. Number five is at 3620 Harris St., a two bedroom frame house with a single garage. Fletcher said that under new legislation it would be necessary to raise to two and three-quarter million dollars the funds needed for including El Cajon. This includes $250,000 that would have to be set aside for interest during construction. (Three years' interest.) This would be a levy against the lands being annexed.

Also under the act, Fletcher stated, the District could obtain revenue from ad valorem taxes and water receipts and must underwrite any deficiencies which may arise.

Fletcher said that he would ask the newly named committee whether or not to place the decision before the District property owners.

This week the local board passed a concurrent resolution to set into motion terms and conditions of annexation. The resolution passed Tuesday morning at the La Mesa District office was the same as the one passed Monday evening at the El Cajon office.

Fletcher said that a request would be made to the State Engineering Department and to the District Security Commission for approval. Approval is expected late this month.

If approval is obtained a bond issue could be offered in El Cajon the second or third week of June. If this issue carries, an election to annex could be called in that district possibly in July.

The Annexation Committee is made up of S. B. Chapman of La Mesa, Anthony Spiazola of Spring Valley, Robert Swearingin of El Cajon and Max Goodwin of Lemon Grove.

El Cajon-La Mesa Water District Differences Being Solved

An attempt will be made to work out the problem of annexing El Cajon and island areas into the La Mesa-Lemon Grove Spring Valley Irrigation District by the annexation committee, it was announced last week by Ed Fletcher, Jr., chairman of the Annexation Committee of the Advisory Committee to the Irrigation District.

Fletcher said that under new legislation it would be necessary to raise to two and three-quarter million dollars the funds needed for including El Cajon. This includes $250,000 that would have to be set aside for interest during construction. (Three years' interest.) This would be a levy against the lands being annexed.

Momentum is gathering for an all-out drive to insure the success of the Lemon Grove swimming pool carnival scheduled for May 14 and 15, Friday and Saturday, at the Lemon Grove Junior High School playgrounds.

Nearly every organization and club in Lemon Grove is throwing its effort behind the project which will ultimately result in a swimming pool, the site of which will be decided when enough funds are available to insure its success.

So far a host of dignitaries have been carded for the two day affair. Already tentatively accepted is Gov. Goodwin Knight, who has said that the only reason he might not be present would be because his schedule would not permit. He said that he would ask his campaign manager to revamp the schedule so that he may be here on one of the days.

Big Parade on Friday

A gigantic parade in which all organizations and groups are invited to participate will be held on Friday May 14. If any organization in town has not been invited to participate it has been because of an oversight, officials stated. Contact the head of any one of the service organizations and arrangements will be made for each group to appear in the parade which will see several armed forces bands taking part.

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce is in charge of supplies and devices and Zella Verdier, Chamber president, reported that a children's fire truck ride, a merry-go-round and an airplane ride have already been obtained for the event. Cotton candy and snowball cup concessions have also been obtained, all of which will make it a gala day for youngsters.

The student council at the Lemon Grove Elementary School will take part in a poster contest in all schools and suitable prizes will be awarded in connection with public school week but the posters will all be displayed about town to publicize the carnival.

The parade, according to Arva Piepenbrink, in charge of entertainment

CLOYED JUMPS IN RACE FOR SENATE WITH BOTH FEET

Ralph R. Cloyed, 80th District Assemblyman and widely recognized leader of San Diego County's legislative delegation, announced today that he is in the race for State Senator—and I am going to work hard to win."

The veteran Republican lawmaker, three times the choice of both major parties in San Diego County to represent them in the State Capitol, has taken out official nomination papers for the 40th Senatorial District race. He said he will cross-file on the Democratic ticket.

Cloyed, a business man who has been devoting his full time to legislative duties, responded to a countywide demand that he seek the Senate seat. More than 200 citizens, representing both the grass-roots organizations and political leadership, called on Cloyed to make the race after he had announced that he planned to retire from politics this year.

Cloyed is the author of the legislative resolution which started the statewide investigation of liquor law abuses. He worked closely with the Legislature's special fact-finding committee, the Weinberger Committee, on the subject and aided in developing the hard-hitting report which called for extensive liquor law reforms.

As a result of this report, the Legislature was called into special session to enact laws stripping the State Board of Equalization of its control over liquor matters.

The Chula Vista lawmaker is the first legislator from San Diego County ever elected to the all-powerful Rules Committee, the policy making body of the Assembly. Cloyed's election to this post came in recognition of his efforts to make the San Diego County delegation an effective bloc of votes in Sacramento.

During his years in office, Cloyed has become the leader in the drive to "get things done" for San Diego County when it comes

Only the fresh and completely edible parts of produce are put on display at Big Ace Markets. Each item goes thru a cleaning. Outside parts that are uneatable are thrown away. One of the bug-a-boos of this operation is the disposal of the refuse. Four giant disposals, particularly developed for Big Ace Markets are in operation at the Lemon Grove market. These disposals would handle the refuse of more than 800 average size homes. It's all part of more efficient handling of produce for lower prices to the consumer.

One of the regular shoppers at Big Ace is Mrs. Charles Stotts, 5827 Nagel St. in La Mesa.

Her husband, a Navy man, and she have two children, Ronnie and Charlie, the latter of which is in the above photograph.

"I like Big Ace produce very, very much because everything is so fresh and handy and reasonable."

"The displays of produce are tempting and it takes the guess work out of buying vegetables. And then there's always that happy thought of S & H Green Stamps at the end of the check-out stand," Mrs. Stotts said.

In connection with the fresh fruit and vegetable department is an automatic orange juicer. Big Ace patrons may buy freshly squeezed orange juice still filled with the fresh vitamins so essential to health. King size jars are filled as patrons watch it squeezed.

This fresh orange juice fountain, illustrated above, has attracted attention from all over the state, according to Larry Childress, Big Ace Market manager.

Garden fresh fruits and vegetables beautifully displayed and priced so that patrons know exactly what they are getting and how much they are paying is one of the features of the Big Ace produce department.

Huge truck trailers ply the roads between produce centers and Big Ace Markets, day and night to keep an adequate supply of fresh, tender produce on hand at all times. A specially trained crew of produce cleaners and graders make the produce ready for Big Ace patrons. Experienced and well trained floor men stack it neatly after culling out that part which is not first class. In spite of all these cares Big Ace produce is less expensive than other markets. In addition, S & H Green Stamps go with every purchase.

State Sets Exams for Five Technical Jobs

Examinations to fill state positions in several technical fields have been announced by the State Personnel Board.

Coming examinations include assistant and associate steel inspector, assistant engineer (structural) and associate electronics engineer, and associate architectural designer.

The steel inspector jobs pay $415-$505 monthly for assistants and $481-$584 for associates. To qualify for the assistant level positions, applicants must have four years' experience in the fabrication or erection of structural steel. One-Act Play Tourney Set

The Heartland Players will compete this year in the One Act Play Tournament. The play to be presented will be "Literature" from the accomplished pen of Arthur Schnitzler, and the performance has been scheduled for Thursday, May 13. The cast of "Literature" is: Cynthia Spry, Sam Baxter, and Bud Coffin, who will also direct the comedy. At a recent meeting of the One Act Play Tournament Committee, Ralph Hastings appointed Mrs. Mary Coffin to be in charge of the advertising to appear on the Tournament's programs, so with all of this the Heartland Players are off to a very energetic start in their first year of competition in San Diego's well known Little Theater contest.

Call Highway Patrol Collect Following Accident

SACRAMENTO—If a driver is involved in a traffic accident in which there is death or injury on any highway outside an incorporated city, an immediate call to the nearest office of the California Highway Patrol will bring expert assistance. Such emergency calls can be made collect.

"This reminder is issued because information arriving at Headquarters indicates that many recent accidents occurring in unincorporated areas have not been promptly reported," stated B. R. Caldwell, Patrol Commissioner.

"In order to help motorists, officers of the Highway Patrol will accept charges on incoming calls reporting accidents," he added.

The law states that any driver involved in an accident in which there is death or personal injury must report the accident in writing to the Highway Patrol within 24 hours provided the accident occurs outside the limit of any city.

In the event that the driver of any vehicle is unable to report the accident and there is another occupant in the vehicle, that occupant shall report the accident or cause the report to be made.

These required reports are in addition to Financial Responsibility reports or others that are required to be submitted.

Businessmen Get Free Information on Government Buying Says Utt

Congressman James B. Utt of Santa Ana, reports that businessmen are no longer required to make expensive trips to Washington or hire influence peddlers in order to get accurate information about government buying activities.

Los Angeles has been selected as one of the twelve General Services Administration Centers which are equipped to give full scale service free of charge to businessmen.

Information available at this center includes all the facts about what GSA has bought, is buying, and will buy; complete bid sets for all purchases to be made in the region; information copies of bids from other parts of the country; free copies of specifications needed in quoting bids; indices of military specifications; counseling service on the machinery of government buying; and names and addresses of other buying agencies.

In addition to the twelve main centers, there are 110 resident representatives who can assist businessmen in getting required information from the nearest regional center. Nearly twenty thousand inquiries a month are being handled by these various offices and over 100,000 copies of specifications have been provided to businessmen. Information may be obtained by mail, telephone, or telegraph and personal interviews are invited.

In buying or arranging the purchase of common-use items totaling $431½ million annually, GSA has adopted the slogan "Walking across the street instead of traveling across the nation," and they have made it possible to have all the information available without the necessity of help from a "five-percenter" or any other go-between, according to Congressman Utt.

Durham Pleads for Early Cancer Contributions

An appeal that contributions to the annual Cancer Crusade of the American Cancer Society be sent to the local branch as soon as possible came this week from Jack Durham, chairman of the volunteers in the Lemon Grove area.

"Volunteers have completed their work of addressing, stuffing and mailing more than 100,000 letters to residents of San Diego County," Durham said. "The letter asks support of the Society's broad program of education, research and patient service. In order that we may reach our quota at the earliest possible time, we are asking that all donors send their contributions as soon as they can."

Proceeds of the campaign, which lasts through April, support a national research program, and an extensive local educational program. Last year, more than 450 persons visited free tumor boards; 2385 San Diegans were given counsel, and 1488 were referred to physicians; 124 bedridden patients were served, and 2800 dressings and supplies furnished.

This work was made possible by the contributions made to the Cancer Society. Cancer is man's cruellest enemy. It strikes one in every five people. But the lives of 500 in this county can be saved through the work, the assistance and the contributions of each individual.

Fifty Thousand Roseblossoms In S. D. Show

Show hours Saturday are from 12:30 to 7:30 p.m. and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Leslie Waldron was matron of honor. Donna Palmer was bridesmaid. Duke Stallings Jr., was first usher while Bobby Cooper was best man.

Carter is enroute to an overseas assignment with the Navy.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

I am referring to the article in the Review on the Installation of Officers of the Business Women's League.

Since "nurse maid's caps" would seem to me to be rather inappropriate to use in installing a business women's group, I would like to point out that the objects that came out of the lady's hat box were Easter Bonnets, and were in keeping with the theme of the entire evening which was an Easter theme.

MRS. ALEX ANTONETTE

Easter bonnets they were, and pretty ones, too. However, when some of the gentlemen present modeled them, they (the Easter bonnets) took on the appearance of nurse maid caps. Ed.

Jerry Lewis cleared up all misconceptions about his recent rumored disagreement with his crooning partner, Dean Martin. Explained Lewis: "We had a disagreement. Only it wasn't a disagreement, it was a fight. Dean called me a dope. I got mad and told him to prove it. He did and that's what we fought about."—Fortnight.

'FATAL' ILLNESS TAKES HOLIDAY

'Heartland Players Present'

First in a series of four
The Heartland Players of Lemon Grove will present their next play titled "Arsenic and Old Lace" Friday and Saturday night, May 7 and 8, and again on Friday and Saturday night, May 14 and 15. This fanciful comedy will be held at the Lemon Grove Woman's Clubhouse where Olive runs into Main Street.

The price is 75 cents per head, adult or children. Tickets will be available at the door on play night and also at Lane's Men's Wear, 7765 Broadway in Lemon Grove. The seating arrangements will be tables and chairs, and soft drinks and tidbits will be sold and served by waitresses. Curtain time is at 8:30 p.m.

The play was written by Messrs. Lindsay and Crouse and was first presented in 1941. The plot is excellent and the characters vary from a crazy brother who is quite harmless and has delusions of being Teddy Roosevelt to another brother who is an insane killer and has the charming features of Boris Karloff.

The story is an improbable thing that authors like to write now and then. Lindsay & Crouse have taken a whackey Brooklyn family consisting of a couple of innocent (?) old ladies and their nephew who believes himself the incomparable Theodore Roosevelt, former president of these United States. Along with that they mixed into this zany batter another nephew who was the black sheep of the family from the second he was born. Although you don't actually see any deaths on the stage throughout the performance, a total of 13 corpses are scattered around the building. Sound too far fetched? You see the play and then it'll all make sense.

(Next week—Some more facts on the story, and our cast.) B. T.

New Gas Operator Once Ran Biggest Station

James W. Coulsby, 218 Altamont Road, former operator of the largest gasoline service station in the world, will open a Richfield station at the corner of University and Massachusetts next week, he announced.

Coulsby, who has been in this area since he came from Washington D. C. four years ago, was the former manager of the Capitol Service which was a Standard Oil of New Jersey affiliate. This station had 86 pumps and more than 100 employees and pumped more than 2 million gallons of gasoline per year, he said.

The Richfield station is one of several recently opened in the Lemon Grove area.

GROVE FISHERMEN LAND SIX SAILFISH

Three sailfish, averaging 125 pounds each, are shown at the fishweighing scaffolding at Mazatlan, Mexico, where these fish, plus three more about the same size, were caught by well-known Lemon Grove personalities.

In the photograph with the fish they caught are Carl Illea, Henry Goldy and Bob Von Willer, Illea and Von Willer are associated in the plastering business while Goldy owns and operates Michael's cafe. On the deck behind the trio can be seen the other fish. The group flew to Mazatlan on a five day fishing trip last week.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. John Dail, president, Mrs. Virgil Danielson, hostess, and Misses W. J. Glazebrook, Grover McMahon, Robert Brown, Harold Randall, Robert Beckham, R. C. Taylor, Herman Bryant, Carl Planchon, and Peg Darroch.

School Contractor Is Snake Killer

Oral L. Carpenter, fearless contractor who built Helix High School and other high schools in the foothills area, added further proof to his fearlessness last week when he killed a rattlesnake measuring four feet and ten inches in length, on Fuerte Drive.

According to Norman Light-hart, an eye witness, Carpenter attacked the snake single-handed with a piece of brush and bludgeoned it into unconsciousness. He then delivered the coup de grace with a well aimed club. The two men then repaired to a nearby spa to regain their aplomb by leaning against a bar.

Civil Defense Notes

Charles Gurley HO 6-3745

The April meeting of the Lemon Grove unit of Civil Defense was held last Thursday evening at the Youth Center, Dr. Frank B. Gigliotti presiding. Deputy Warden A. J. "Bob" Bloom showed two interesting short motion pictures, "The Waking Point" and "Survival Under Atomic Attack."

"It seems quite likely we have found another very interesting person in our group," said Dr. Gigliotti. "We have a promise from Mrs. M. J. Rewicz who was born in Chicago but spent considerable time in Poland, behind the iron curtain and at our May meeting will tell us a good many things about how it feels to be all mixed up with secret police, concentration camps and bombs. This will be a personal appearance and not a motion picture. Mrs. Rewicz is a business woman and accustomed to public appearances and we can promise you a wonderful evening."

The following were present: Mrs. Melba Connors, Mrs. Edna Snyder, Mrs. M. J. Rewicz, Harry Robinson, A. J. "Bob" Bloom, Leon Palasik, F. B. Gigliotti, Charles Gurley and Steve Trial.

New Cars.... Old Courthouse....

From the Historical Collection at Union Title Insurance & Trust Company

The automotive industry was in its infancy in 1906 when this group of Maxwells gathered in front of San Diego's already remodeled courthouse for a parade down Broadway. Banners proclaimed "all these cars are sold; another carload soon."

One of the earlier automobiles, production of Maxwells ceased in the middle 20s, but in 1906 they were cars to be cherished. The tool kit was as important as the crank, rattled dirt roads were traversed on narrow, hard tires. Ladies shaded their complexions while motoring by holding a dainty parasol aloft (a completely practical maneuver at the sedate speeds of 1906).

The automobiles pictured in this photograph from the historical collection of Union Title Insurance and Trust Company have long since been retired. Not so, however, the courthouse. Started in 1872, the old building still stands—an aged reminder of the days when San Diego was very young.

Eddy Announces For County Assessor's Post

County Assessor Arthur C. Eddy will be a candidate for a four-year term beginning next January. He is now serving out the unexpired term of his father, Crowell D. Eddy, who resigned last November.

The younger Eddy was named administrative assistant in the assessor's office in 1949, advanced to executive assistant in 1950, and to assistant assessor a year later. All three appointments were under civil service examinations.

He attended Whittier College for three years prior to entering the Navy in 1940. He was on duty at Pearl Harbor during the Dec. 7 bombing and thereafter served on destroyers in the Pacific, Mediterranean and North Atlantic and retired as a lieutenant commander in 1945.

Eddy then graduated from Whittier in 1946, completed Duke University law school and graduated with LL.B. degree in 1949.

He was named "Young Man of the Year" in 1952 by the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce for his leadership in youth movements and for distinguished service as assistant county assessor.

LOUIS POLUZZI TO BE INSTALLED AS GROVE P-TA HEAD

Mr. Louis Poluzzi will be installed as president of the Lemon Grove District Teacher's Association, Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Lemon Grove Cafeteria.

Other officers to be installed are as follows: Keith Dolan, vice-president; Evelyn Coldwell, recording secretary; Lockey Palermo, corresponding secretary; Clarence Allen, treasurer; Wiley Cornelius, auditor.

Mrs. Dorothy Geissler, present vice-president and program chairman, has arranged the installation program. Mrs. Anna Garner, assistant executive secretary, C.T.A.S.S., guest speaker for the evening, will discuss the two proposed retirement plans. One of these plans will be presented at the general session of the State Legislature next year.

Methodist Group Gets Parolee Story

A father-son banquet was discussed at the Methodist Men's Group held earlier this month at the home of Fred Ward on Sweetwater Road. A pot-luck dinner was a feature.

Ernest Reimer was guest speaker and spoke on "Rehabilitating the Adult Criminal." Reimer is with the Adult Criminal Authority and works with parolees from San Quentin and other prisons. Reimer said that the reason prisoners are paroled is that 300 new criminals are committed to five state prisons every month and unless there were parolees a new prison would have to be built every year to house the criminals.

He also pointed out that it takes $1100 a year to care for a man in prison, whereas expenses in connection with paroling amounts to only $200 a year.

Because many persons in Lemon Grove appear to have had only limited acquaintanceship with information concerning the County Planning Department's proposed "planned right of way" ordinance, we asked Dr. Willis Miller, County Director of Planning, to give an explanation of the plan devoid of all technical frills. This is what Dr. Miller reports:

COUNTY OF SAN DIEGO

PLANNING DEPARTMENT

214 Civic Center - San Diego 1, Calif.

Editor, Lemon Grove Review

Dear Sir:

This is in reply to your recent request for information about a "planned right of way" ordinance which the County Planning Commission has under consideration.

First, it should be noted that no such ordinance yet has been forwarded to the Board of Supervisors for adoption. The Commission has had this matter under study for some time, and once approved a draft ordinance. However, that draft was opposed by certain interests so the Commission withdrew its approval, and invited a number of groups to be represented on a special Advisory Committee which will review the problem and report its suggestions to the Commission. After this Committee has reported its findings, the Commission again will consider the matter. An advertised public hearing will be held on any resulting "future street" ordinance before the Commission recommends it to the Board of Supervisors.

Second, attention is invited to the reasons why the Commission is considering a "planned right of way" ordinance, what local precedent there is for such regulations, and in a general way what such an ordinance would do and what it would not do.

During the years ahead, many new streets and highways will be built, and many existing roads will be widened and improved. These projects are necessary to keep pace with the rapid development and increased motor and pedestrian traffic throughout San Diego County.

Such a large-scale road program has two major areas of difficulty — the excessive cost of right of way when buildings must be purchased, and the uncertainty confronting land developers when they do not know just what property will be required for future streets.

The County Planning Commission believes that both of these difficulties largely can be eliminated by a suitable "future street" ordinance. Accordingly, the Commission is discussing a proposed ordinance with provisions similar to those contained in the State Streets and Highways Code (Article 4, Chapter 3, Division 1) dealing with the "Protection of Beds of Mapped Highways."

Such an ordinance would precisely specify just what land will be needed for individual future streets, and establish a "screening" procedure before any building is erected within the designated rights of way. It would not prevent the reasonable use of any property, nor would it "take" any property for public use without just compensation to the owner.

An ordinance like that under consideration should save tax money, encourage orderly road improvement, eliminate much of the economic waste resulting from removing buildings to provide highway right of way, and facilitate the operation of subdividers and other land developers.

Yours very truly,

SAN DIEGO COUNTY PLANNING DEPARTMENT

STATE SETS EXAMS TO PICK DRIVERS' LICENSING STAFF

The state will pick its examiners for automobile drivers' licenses from a list established by a civil service examination. Drivers' license examiners work throughout the state for the Department of Motor Vehicles, and receive $325 to $395 a month.

With 6,000,000 automobile registrations in California, testing for new and renewal licenses is a major operation. Driver testing is done at 100 offices, and candidates must accept work wherever the vacancies exist.

The jobs are open to men only.

Requirements call for either graduation from college or a substantial amount of business, professional or military experience involving broad public contacts. The department finds that fairly mature men, who can get along

I was packaging a lady's groceries the other day during one of our many rush hours. Her little son was watching me with intense interest at the speed I had to go in order to keep up with the flying hands of one of our checkers. In my mind I thought the little tyke was still too small and young to even be able to mutter "mama." I was soon to receive a shock. For as I put the last item in the package the little fella sided up to me and in a lusty whisper said: "Man, that was really cool packin'!" (That really happened, too.)

Some examiners give the inside informational and eye test and some the driving test. In smaller offices, the examiners do both.

Applications are available at all Motor Vehicle offices, and also at the State Employment office on Columbia St.

Exposition Queen Preliminary Contests Underway

With the selection of candidates from El Cajon, Lakeside and National City, the Exposition Queen preliminaries formally are underway, Barney Newlee, director of special events for the Southern California Exposition and County Fair, said today.

These eliminations will be held in various parts of the county during April and May. Lemon Grove's event is slated for Thursday, April 22, Mrs. James A. Martin, chairman for the sponsoring Lemon Grove Jr. Woman's Club, said.

Applications now are being accepted. Entry blanks can be obtained by calling Mrs. Martin at JU 2-2230. Rules for entering are simple. Participants must be between the ages of 16 through 19, single, and residents of the communities where they participate. Judging will be on a point system for beauty, personality, charm and poise.

Smile... One Helix choir girl to another. "He likes my company and I simply love his. I think it's called the Fidelity Trust."

Helix Granted Athletic Loan... A loan of $50.00 to Helix High School's A.S.B. has been approved by the Grossmont Union High School district trustees to finance purchase of bleachers and lights for the football season this fall.

The loan will be repaid at a 25 per cent levy on net proceeds from Helix home games. Grossmont will also use the new field. The action was declared necessary by the board because Aztec Bowl (State College) will not be available for the Grossmont-Helix football games.

Fairest of the Fair... Marylyn Hawkins, 17, and Lulu Doud, 18, were elected candidates to represent La Mesa and Rolando, respectively in the Fairest of the Fair contest at Del Mar, June 5. Marylyn, a blonde, is queen of the Yellowtail Derby and a senior at Helix. Lulu, a brunette, Rolando's finalist in last year's contest, is also a senior at Helix. The Fairest of the Fair queen will reign over the Southern California Exposition and County Fair, June 25-July 5.

Platter Parade... I've been asked where one can buy the Jackie Gleason album titled "Tawny." Here's your answer: At Ratner Electric, 8th & Broadway in downtown San Diego. (BE-4-383.) Mr. Gleason's new album has been selling very nicely and he features such tunes as: "The Girl," "The Boy," "The Dance," "The Affair," "Little Girl," "I Cover the Waterfront," "Some Day," and "If I Had You." Pick up on this collection of wax for real cool tunes.

Interview of a Helix Cheerleader... "Glenn Crosbie" junior—dishwater blond hair—wants to go to Cal—undecided future—likes his English class—he's this year's Chief Justice of the school—he's on the Prom committee—likes Stan Kenton—likes girls (who doesn't?)—likes to munch on steaks—likes to eat at Don's.

Throwin' the Bull... As most of you know the Cancer society carries on an all year fight against the dread disease known as cancer. This year they have set aside the month of April as their special campaign month. Please, and we ask this sincerely, please help this very worthwhile group of people strike back at one of man's cruellest enemies. Give generously to help conquer cancer.

This year I contributed to this fund via mail. After I put the letter in the mailbox a feeling of security and warmth enveloped my body. Wouldn't you like to be one of the many silent heroes that give some of their earnings in order to save a fellow human-being from death? You can if you contribute!

Think this story over very carefully: "They love each other, the two in the hospital room holding hands in the wordless dusk... They love each other... the husband by the bedside, and the woman who is his wife and the mother of his children. Anguish was balanced against hope—terror against prayer until the verdict: "Too late" or "Good... caught in time." If the latter verdict comes true, the man can return home in peace. If the "Too late" verdict comes true, he will return to his empty home to see an empty chair and the empty wondering space behind the eyes

Teacher Population Totals Eighty Three

This year more teachers will be added to the ever growing staff of the Lemon Grove School District. The past few years have seen the district develop from a small one school system with a few teachers to an ever enlarging educational plant now boasting 83 classroom teachers employed in five separate schools in Lemon Grove.

Of these 83 classroom teachers, 33 now hold tenure, or are secure in their jobs so long as they follow the State school code and those regulations set up by the local board of trustees. Eight teachers are now in their third year of service in this district and, upon reemployment, will become eligible for tenure next year. Twenty one teachers have been in the district for one year; eighteen for two years. One teacher has served here for a total of 18 years, one for 14 years, two for 12 years, one for ten years, and ten for eight years. These statistics show that in Lemon Grove the teacher turnover does not present the baffling problem that it does in some districts.

Lemon Grove teachers are well trained for their positions. Eight of those employed hold Masters degrees in their field, 18 have at least 30 hours of work beyond the Bachelors degree, 18 have at least 15 units beyond that degree, and 38 hold Bachelor degrees. One teacher has a provisional certificate.

In the age group breakdown, 12 teachers fall in the 20-25 year bracket; 19 in the 26-30 year old group; ten between 31 to 35; ten between 36-40; 14 between 41-45; nine between 46-50; seven between 51-55; one between 56-60; and one between 60 to 65.

LUTHERAN CHURCH TO HAVE MORE SERVICES

Lemon Grove Lutheran Church will have two services on Sunday mornings starting April 25. The first service will begin at 8:30 a.m., followed by Sunday School at 9:45 a.m. The second service will start at 11:00 a.m. Rapid growth necessitates having two services in order to more comfortably accommodate members and friends.

of his now motherless children." Yet there is hope so long as we're willing and able to strike back... through our contributions. Help the Cancer society avert thousands of needless tragedies this year. Help make that man's verdict in the story be "Good... caught in time." Give what you can today to save lives tomorrow. Mail your contributions to the American Cancer Society, 1401 Fifth Ave., San Diego, or through Jack Durham in Lemon Grove. Thank you!

CAMP TRAILER IS PRIZE IN LIONS CONTEST

"Operation Bleacher Seats," a Lemon Grove Lions Club project which will result in another bank of seats for the bleachers at the new junior high school playgrounds, is well under way. A $1500.00 camping trailer, equipped with a complete kitchen, will be won by some lucky sportsman May 15 when the winning ticket will be pulled. In the photo above are Lions George Kovach, Dr. Calvin Nicholl, and Lion president Dr. Don Johnson. Drawing will take place on the second day of the huge Swimming Pool Carnival set for the playgrounds May 14-15.

Snapdragons for Vibrant Color in Grove Gardens

Putting color into the garden is a simple matter of transplanting a few well chosen bedding plants. Using a little foresight, such as having perennials correctly placed in a permanent border planting, shade plants in their required shade garden area, and low-growing drought resistant plants in the curb planting will make gardening a pleasure. Snapdragons, one of the most pleasant surprises that ever happened to a home gardener, serve double duty by giving color in the garden and cut flowers in the home.

Vibrant color from snapdragons are one of the highlights of the garden. With a year around popularity that never seems to dim, the appeal of the new Tetra strain of snapdragons has given a fresh surge to this old-time favorite. Planted in either solid (white, yellow, rose shades, crimson and orchid) or mixed colors they are one of the sure to please items in the modern garden, especially in Lemon Grove.

While other strains are still worthy of use, the real thrill of accomplishment that comes with perfectly grown plant material is to be derived only from planting the best.

Well developed transplants of Tetra snapdragons planted out in early March will give bloom in about ten weeks. Pinching the plant half-way back when they are about 6 inches high will delay the bloom slightly but will repay with more blooms and a better developed plant. Snapdragons are sun lovers and do their best with a liberal dose of sunshine if planted in loose, rich soil. Treat them right and watch them grow!

Stanford Professor of Business Statistics William A. Spurr expects California to have 14 million people by 1960. "We have far outstripped the nation in population growth every decade since 1860," he told the 22nd Annual Stanford Alumni Conference, "and by 1960 we should have a third more people than we did in 1950."—Fortnight.

The MASON LINE

our deathless prose to the limbo of the "Certificates of Fictitious Names Dept."

—ML—
We heard of a new wrinkle worked by one of our local matrons the other day. Seems she's on a party line and was most anxious to get a call through to her spouse—but to her dismay she found two of her party line compatriots in the midst of an interminable conversation. She waited for a pause in their conversation and quickly said, "Well, goodbye." Immediately came the click of the two receivers and she put her call through to her mate. "Just want to remind you dear, not to forget the green stamps."

—ML—
Certainly no animal fouls its nest as cheerfully as man, nor gets so surprised and het up about it afterward. We're thinking of our littered beaches and trash-lined highways. Our lack of proper sewage disposal and now, smog—and pitted windshields yet!

—ML—
THERE'S A DIFFERENCE
We think it was Doc McKinney who was telling us it takes three weeks to housebreak a dog but only three days for the dog to break up the house.

about Lemon Grove?
"Let's give this lady a hand! She is a friend of mine, and she was right. I'm a new-comer. I've been here only six and one-half years. What could I be expected to know about the history of a place when I had known it only so short a time?"

"But my friend was right, only up to the time that I began looking for the history of our town."
"At first, it seemed to me, that Lemon Grove hadn't much to offer in the way of history. But when I began to analyze the word HISTORY, I found that one definition given in the dictionary reads, 'History is a narration or account of the PROGRESS of a nation, state or town.'"

"Sometimes, we think of history as a study of dead things: buried cities, forgotten people. But the dictionary says that history is the story of the progress of a place."

"Progress is a moving or going forward."
"In order to go anywhere, forward or backward, there must be roads or trails."

"The history of Lemon Grove has as many trails as there have been people in the town."
"These trails, leading from the present day, back into the history of Lemon Grove; the backward trail of the Indian, the squatter, the farmer, the storekeeper, the doctor, the minister, the housewife, the mother—each one of these trails played an important part in the making of the history of Lemon Grove."

"And for those people who traveled the trails, there are landmarks or high spots, along the trails, where in the evening, the memory brouses and feeds on the good things of yesterday. But memory does not stop at the good things."

"Memory contemplates and reviews the bad, the inconveniences, the back-breaking systems of early days. And from these things in history that were not so good, have sprung the modern things of the world today. The wash-board inspired the inventor of the washing-machine. The spring-house, the kerosene lamp, the horse-drawn vehicles, are a part of the past, and we are glad of it. But we go back and search the past in order to go forward."

space in her syndicated columns telling other people how to raise children. He passed this on without comment and so do we.

We are intrigued by the statement of the former Russian code clerk who exposed a Soviet spy ring in Canada. Writing in a current magazine he said "That if the democratic countries would enact laws that offered citizenship, life long protection, such as I have received, and ECONOMIC SECURITY IN THE FORM OF A GOVERNMENT ANNUITY, then I think other Soviet citizens in spy work would do what I did." Now that is just ducky. Which of us citizens has economic security? In our opinion we see no point in nurturing the lowest form of animal life.

Corinne Calvert pointed up some of the vagaries of prospective motherhood in Hollywood. Testifying at her divorce trial, the Gallic beauty told the court that husband John Bromfield kept stalling off, saying they didn't "have enough money" for a child. "Then, when we saved the money, he said we couldn't take a chance of me being off the screen for a year," she explained.—Fortnight.

this fraud when two of my near & dear friends, Judge Luther Hussey and Plumbing Supplyman Harmon Russell, announced simultaneously at our little breakfast club which meets each morning at the Sugar Plum Cafe, that their wives are scheduled to be away this week for a vacation. As I lined up their thinking on this fraud, we decided to assess our responsibilities once the women of the house had taken off.

The Judge, we decided, a most imperturbable fellow, would never disturb as much as a flake of dust nor ash up even an ash tray with his inveterate smoking at home. Outside of brushing his foot over the cigarette ashes on the rug once a day, his housework would be nil.

Harmon Russell is more active but his problem is the least complicated. He has everything pegged to a simple routine which he developed when he "batched" once before.

"All I do is pull up the bed covers when I leave the house and my housework is done," he said.

We wondered aloud if the place looked dusty after awhile, but he showed us the rug on which our little masculine group is becoming famous, he offered this solution.

"I pull the blinds after the third day," he said. "If the place gets dusty, nobody can tell it."

to legislative matters.

He fought continuously last year to get San Diego County a fair share of increased highway revenues for the construction of badly-needed highways and freeways. His efforts helped work out a formula which means an additional 25 million dollars for San Diego County over the next 10 years.

Cloyed's prominent position on the Ways and Means, Agriculture, Livestock and Dairies, and Conservation, Planning and Public Works Committees has given him a vantage point from which to guard over San Diego County interests in legislative matters.

The Chula Vista led the fight for creation of a special legislative committee to develop an effective program for the better utilization of the San Diego Bay area and for the establishment of small boat harbors along the California coast. He is now chairman of that committee.

The proper industrial development of the bay and small boat harbors would not only add revenue to the coffers of City and County treasuries but would provide additional employment for many men and women and would maintain a stable economy for labor and business.

Water is the life-blood of the entire San Diego County area and Cloyed has won his way into the vice-chairmanship of the Joint Legislative Interim Committee on Water Problems—the key group that charts all major water programs for the State.

When Cloyed came to the Legislature, he was a leader in the formation of a militant group of "Young Turks," labeled by correspondents the "Good Government Group," who rebelled against the existing Assembly control. They overturned the old group, elected a new Speaker, revised the Assembly rules and generally eliminated the old-time lobbyist control of lower house committees.

Cloyed is married and the father of two married daughters. He is a member of numerous civic and fraternal organizations in San Diego County.

tainment, will be composed of bands, marching units, clowns, baton twirlers, horsemen and anyone interested in marching in the event. She may be contacted at HO 6-2489.

More than 25 booths will be set up in the playground area in which games with suitable prizes will be established. Meanwhile youngsters taking part in the project, will attempt to sell at 10¢ a piece, part of the 50,000 tickets to be used as script during the affair. While the booths will be used primarily to house games and eatables designed to attract both young and old, one firm, the Master Cleaners, have announced that they would set up a booth and put on display all of the unclaimed dry cleaned articles they have collected during the past year. This will amount to possibly 500 dry cleaned slacks, skirts, shirts, suits and coats.

In addition to these events, a teenage dance will be held in the Cafeteria both Friday and Saturday evenings. Ozzie's student band will play for dancers. The winner of the Fair of the Fair Contest will be announced on Friday during the carnival, according to Mrs. James A. Martin, president of the Lemon Grove Woman's Club Juniors. This organization is sponsoring the event. Applications may be obtained at Helix High School and the winners will vie for further honors at a Coronation Ball June 5th in the Bing Crosby Hall, Exposition Grounds, Del Mar.

Tom Warburton, assistant principal of Helix and president of Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club, heads up a general committee. Serving with him are Palmer Svalstad, Kenneth Smith, Mmes. E. W. Middleton, H. E. Espe, A. Lizama, J. A. Martin, Vance Dittamore, Margaret Durham, John Dail, Bert Cosby, Laura Becker, and Karen Keeton.

Retired Officers Form Local Organization

Retired Officers of the various military services, residing in the Foothills Area of San Diego County, assembled at Michael's banquet hall in Lemon Grove earlier this month to form a permanent organization in the interests of the military affairs of our country and the welfare and progress of the retired officers.

tions. All will hold open house Tuesday evening from 6:30 to 8:30, with student work on display. Visitations may be made to the actual classrooms during regular school hours, and in some cases demonstrations will be announced ahead by individual teachers. At Golden Avenue it is hoped that a film on hygiene will be shown at open house, at Monterey Heights a flag raising program is set for Friday at 9:15 a.m., with lowering at 3:15, and at Vista La Mesa, at assemblies on Thursday morning and afternoon, each grade in the school will participate. If possible, some essay contest awards may be announced at this program.

Commander Alfred A. Paulsen, retired from the Naval services, presided, with Major Charles E. Powell, retired from the Army, as secretary-treasurer acting in that office. These retired officers reside in these Foothills section of San Diego County and the many officers attending were from San Diego County in the vicinity of La Mesa, Lemon Grove, El Cajon, Fletcher Hills, Santee, Jamul, Spring Valley and from areas adjacent.

A Constitution and By-Laws, presented by a committee headed by Lieutenant Commander Frank M. Hendricks, USN retired, were adopted. These by-laws provide among other things that the name of this local organization is "The Foothills Retired Officers Club," and that it is affiliated with the Retired Officers Association whose headquarters are in Washington, D. C. Lieutenant General Willard S. Paul, U. S. Army, retired, is the president of the national organization. Membership in both the national organization and our local Foothills Retired Officers Club includes any retired officer from the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Coast and Geodetic Survey, and Public Health Service.

The next meeting of the Foothills Retired Officers Club will be held at Michael's, in Lemon

Dr. Theodore Reik, the eminent Freudian analyst, was in Oakland, lecturing on his favorite subject, "What Kinsey Doesn't Know." "The Kinsey statistics may be useful to sociologists, law makers and trained psychologists, but they don't help an untrained layman to solve his sexual problems. That's because they ignore the emotional aspects of... love. It is dangerous for most people to read Kinsey," he declared.—Fortnight.

DOUG FLEDGER, S. F. disc jockey—There's this about television—the more unsuitable the program, the more quiet it keeps the children.

Grove, on Tuesday, May 11 with a dinner at 7:00 p.m.
Places have been arranged for 32 members; however, guests are invited and asked to attend. Major Charles E. Powell, Box 215, Jamul, is accepting reservations. The formal organizing of this retired officers club now gives to the Foothills area, a healthy voice in the affairs of the national organization of the Retired Officers Association and it is believed that the retired officer residing in the area now has an assembly where retired interests meet with progress.
